Book Description

7–9. Erhard Ratdolt, Peter Loeslein, and Bernhard Maler, page for Calendarium, by Regiomontanus, 1476. A grid of metal rules brings order and legibility to this record of past and future eclipses.

My Description

I chose this picture because it's all about the moon and how it changes. I'm really into the moon and its different phases. This picture caught my eye because it's not just a regular drawing of the moon; it's drawn in a really cool and beautiful way.
