

1924

Book Description

15–13. El Lissitzky, poster for Pelikan ink, 1924. This photogram was produced in the darkroom by placing objects directly on the photographic paper and then making the exposure by flashing a light held to the left.

My Description

I like the vibe of this picture. When i'm designing or making something I usually like to go for a similar vibe and get inspired by pics like this. I like the white text on top of the jar and the grain and I usually mimic the old effect to make it look like it came from a time like this. I also like the black and white and the silhouette vibe it has.
