

1941

Book Description

17–30. Jean Carlu, poster for the Office of Emergency Management, 1941. Visual and verbal elements are inseparably interlocked into an intense symbol of productivity and labor.

My Description

I think this is an interesting design and I chose this because it has a different approach to showing the message. Using the tool over the text is a cool choice.