

c. 450–430 BCE

Book Description

2–13. Greek allotment tokens, c. 450–430 BCE. In the Greek city-state, some public officials were elected and others were selected by lot. These tokens were used in the selection process.

My Description

I chose this artifact because it looks cool as if it was a puzzle. Its interesting that this was used to vote and select. Mixing different ways of making decisions is important for society to grow and change.
